The picnic given by the Schwaben Benevolent Verein in the Grove on French street, yesterday, was marked by an old fashioned Schwaben mock wedding and a Schwaben mock trial. The principals in the wedding were Miss Elida Scholer and Chris Stroehler, who wore Schwaben costumes. In the trial Jacob Belsch was burgess and George Ralchert, the culprit. There was dancing and the day was most enjoyably spent by everybody. The picnic was arranged by Adolph Roerschel, Frank Froehnebach, Martin Wisking, William Bohn and Christian Schick.

ROSE STAHL SCORES IN CHARACTER PLAY

With James Forbes' clever comedy "The Chorus Lady" as a vehicle Rose Stahl presented herself to a Bridgeport audience for the second time at Jackson's Theatre last night. Rose Stahl's advent to stardom came when "The Chorus Lady" was first presented in New York three years ago and it has stood her in good stead ever since. Fresh from a successful visit to England, she is now making a final tour of the United States, before leaving her first love to lesser lights.

Few of the original company were in the cast last night, but despite that fact it was an evenly balanced and well produced presentation. "The Chorus Lady" is similar in construction to James Forbes' later comedy "The Traveling Salesman." At no time does the actress vary from an unflinching strong enough to hold one's attention. The dialogue however, is of the true Forbes' type, snappy, slangy and a frank deal of it. Most of the characters evidenced a tendency to restraint, a failure to let themselves out in the more serious moments of the play, a weakness that might come of a play of such retarded action.

Rose Stahl as Patricia O'Brien showed a care-free, independent chorus girl who is suddenly presented with the problem of caring for a younger stage-struck sister. Miss Stahl's clever work was very well appreciated by large and discriminating audiences.

Wilfred Lucas, as the rough house owner, who loves the chorus lady, was excellent at all times. Dick Crawford was played by Stanley Jessup. His comic and disagreeable part and the role was capably handled. The Irish parents of the "lady" were true types as given by Alice Leigh and Giles Shine. The unwinding of the story was somewhat abrupt, but in so clever a manner that it did not detract from the enjoyment of the play as a whole.

EXCEPTIONAL PRIZE OFFERING.

One of Our Newest Business Houses to Offer a $25.00 Piano to Introduce its Goods in Bridgeport and Vicinity.

A novel Limerick contest is being run by A. M. Vack of 1163 Main St., who is using this method of introducing to the music lovers of Bridgeport the celebrated Hallet and Davis. Conway and other high grade makes of pianos.

The Hallet and Davis piano is recognized as being one of this country's leading instruments and is endorsed by a number of the best musicians of the day. It has been manufactured for the past 71 years and each year it has been improved upon until now it is without a doubt equal if not superior to any piano in the world.

Mr. Vack is very fortunate in being in position to distribute such a line of goods.

It may be judged that the house is likely to date when as an introductory offer it allows Mr. Vack to present to the party who sends the best answer to his limerick a $25.00 piano. Surely one of our best introductions to this prize places in the judges hands the disposition of $10,000 in additional prizes.

Below is a copy of the limerick which it is necessary to complete and send in before Sept. 11, 1909.

A musician set out on a quest
Good pianos to put to a test,
Hallet & Davis he tried
And very loudly he cried

MOONLIGHT "FLY" TO PORT JEFFERSON

Who will be the first to undertake a flying trip from Bridgeport to Long Island? Surely one of our best American aviators will before long add to his fame by making this trip in a bi-plane, which seems to be the most successful type of airship yet invented. It will be a great day when the people in thousands turn out to see a Wright or a Curtiss embark on a perilous flight. To those who do, let them take advantage of the moonlight sail of the steamer Park City to be given by the Adelpian Yacht Club, Friday evening, Sept. 10, leaving foot of Wall street at 7:45. There will be dancing at Port Jefferson.

M'NEIL COAL CO.
TO INSTALL MODERN DISCHARGING PLANT

New Equipment to Revolutionize Existing Methods
CONTRACT PRICE $22,000

The Archibald McNeil & Sons Company have awarded to the Bergen Point Iron Works of Bayonne, N. J., the contract for the erection of one of the most modern coal discharging plants in the United States.

The estimated cost of this plant when completed will be $22,000. The special machinery which will be installed, when completed about November 1, will consist of one 24" P. upright boiler and coal tower, runways, and electrical cars running from the receiving point of the coal to different parts of the Company's yard by electric cable. The plant's ability to discharge coal will be at the rate of 80 tons an hour, a little a ton a minute. On account of the modern bucket which will be used, the breakage which customarily occurs in discharging Anthracite coal will be lessened at least 50 per cent, thereby insuring a cleaner and more uniform grade of coal than heretofore, under the old method of discharging coal.

The added facilities for storage of coal will increase capacity of 50 per cent. Archibald McNeil, Jr., president of the company, stated today that when this work was completed the company would have a storage capacity of 15,000 tons of Anthracite coal, under cover in raised bins, automatically screened, and 11,000 tons of bituminous coal.

"This will enable us," he said, "to carry a large surplus of both grades of coal, and to avail ourselves of opportunities of securing the best grades in large quantities and carrying them on hand over a longer period than we have previously been able to do. Under our present method of discharging coal we are often obliged to work with artificial light, in order to keep sufficient coal ahead in our yard to take care of our trade and protect some of our large customers who use the bituminous product."

"We do not anticipate that the construction of this new plant will materially interfere with our business as the contract calls for the completion of the work by November 1st. The old style method of discharging which has been employed by our yard heretofore will be entirely done away with, and we will not only have the advantage of being able to discharge our coal rapidly but we will be assured against shortages of coal such as we have experienced in the past, and will have no inconvenient large coal dealers."

The Archibald McNeil & Sons Company was organized in 1903 and is a consolidation of the former McNeil, Archibald McNeil, wholesale bituminous coal dealer, Archibald McNeil & Sons, wholesale and retail coal dealers, Frank & Miller & Co., wholesale and retail coal dealers, and the Pennsylvania Beach Creek & Eastern Coal Company of Bridgeport, Conn.

The company with its new facilities which the installation of this modern device will give them, will have practically the largest storage capacity for Anthracite and bituminous coal in this section of New England.

WELCOME RETURN OF VAUDEVILLE

Large audiences welcomed the return of vaudeville to Poli's theatre, yesterday afternoon and last night. The bill was varied and attractive and applause punctuated the performance sharply a dozen times during the evening. "The Song Shop" was the most Metropolitan thing on the bill. O'CONNELL GIRL BADLY TREATED BY STEPMOTHER

After a long period of abuse and humiliation from her step mother Mary O'Connell, daughter of Michael O'Connell of Milne street, has been taken from what was her home only in name and placed at Lakeview home, temporarily, until arrangements for her removal to the Home of the Good Shepherd.

The stepmother and daughter disagreed from the start over unimportant matters and the father added with his wife. This only strengthened the dislike of the stepmother for the girl and matters went from bad to worse. The stepmother became so intolerable for the girl that she was not allowed to sleep in the cellar. As to her personal appearance it was frightful. Her hair was unkempt and had not been washed for weeks. When taken to the Lakeview home her hair was entirely cut off and her scalp cleaned thoroughly. The stepmother blamed the girl for all the conditions from which the child has been suffering. At the charities building yesterday morning in presence of several strangers the mother humiliated the girl as much as she could by accusing her of stealing and of being too lazy to keep herself clean. The tears flowed down the cheeks of the girl under such public abuse but the father sat on the same bench with her without murmuring a protest.

There has been no denial that the girl has been a little wayward and has fallen in bad company but she has not gone as far as many of her comrades who have been sent to the same bench with her without murmuring a protest.

The occurrence was entirely accidental. Winchester received a cut on his forehead which was dressed by Dr. Krause at the Emergency hospital.

"TAF" KORMAN DID NOT SURVIVE SUICIDAL ATTEMPT

Death finally claimed Adolph G. Korman, Saturday night, at St. Vincent's hospital, after a week of lingering between life and death since he was thrown from a car on the street by a boy named Russell Boyton who was with the other two but had gone on ahead tried to catch Leon to prevent him from falling. He did not succeed and Leon rolled in the street. Jumping up he ran across the street and shouted for the police. He found Policeman Connery near Bank street and had the trio arrested claiming that they assaulted him to rob him of his money. That is the story the boys tell.

The Clinician claimed that the boys punched him in the face and body and finally knocked him off the sidewalk into the road. The only reason he could think of was that they wanted to rob him.

The boys denied all these allegations and said they were fooling. Their attorney, Frederick Fallon, argued that it was a boyish prank and asked that it be treated as such. Deputy Judge Wilder didn't see the joke, however, and fined Martin and Law $25 and costs each. Boyton who went ahead of the other two was discharged. An appeal was taken by Attorney Fallon in each of the two cases where fines were imposed. Bonds were fixed at $100.

It was said this morning that Bagan and his two friends were noisy and were looking for trouble with some union workmen who board at the hotel. Bagan's fine was paid.

Margaret Cheshire was found in Middle street in a very precarious condition, owing to her fondness for liquor, looking for Monroe. She inquired of Sergeant O'Leary who promised that he would get her home. He called the auto patrol and Margaret was given a free ride. She was sent up for ten days.

COENS MAY MAKE UP

The chances for a reconciliation between Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Coen, of 581 Warren street are very good, according to Attorney Charles Shambaugh, who represents Mr. Coen. In the city court this morning Mr. Coen's case was continued for one week upon request of his lawyer.
A short time ago Mrs. Coen had her husband arrested for non-support. His case was continued until this morning under $100 bonds. Glasses for reading and sewing ought to be changed every two or three years. While you may be able to use them longer, it is likely to strain and overtax the eyes. Glasses for distance can be used for a greater length of time. Sometimes they can be worn for ten and even fifteen years without any change. Of course they must fit you correctly in the first place. If not, change them today. We will make a thorough examination of your eyes FREE and tell you the condition your eyes are in.

Piano Facts

The Wissner is the only piano extensively used by artists of the highest class, the construction of which is still under the supervision of the founder.

Wissner pianos were accorded universal recognition in less than half the time taken by other pianos. For concert and recital purposes of a high order in Greater New York and vicinity, the Wissner piano is invariably used.

People who judge pianos on their real merits alone, acknowledge the Wissner to be the representative perfect piano and the most modern instrument of the century. Admirers of the Wissner piano are found among those broad-minded individuals who have more faith in the achievements of the present than those of the past.
